Honorable Assembly Members,

I am writing in support of health mandates 5, 8 & 9. I currently already follow the guidelines set out in mandate 8 both at work, when I am in stores, or around groups of people. I find it to be a minor inconvenience and one that I am certain is temporary. The cost is low and the benefits could be substantial. In regards to mandates 5&9, given the nature of either water or air arrival into Petersburg, we are uniquely situated to test essentially everyone that arrives. The airport has already discovered several cases. As with masks, it seems a minor imposition with potentially great benefit. We are very fortunate to live in a community with few cases, a school that is open, lots of opportunities to recreate and socialize while maintaining social distance, and most importantly, a highly qualified Incident Command team. With cases in Alaska increasing exponentially and with weather and holidays driving us indoors with others, these simple, commonsense, low impact directives can help continue to keep our community safe.
