I am curious about these mandates. Maybe I missed something somewhere but I have never heard of a borough assembly having the legal right to just mandate such things that require citizens to do something that may take away someones rights. Could someone give a quick explanation. for the record I think wearing or not wearing a face covering is a personal choice. At some point people will have to come out of our caves and get back to business. No matter when that is this virus is still going to be there, at some point we will just have to take our chances, what is happening now is not sustainable.
