Members of the Assembly,

The PEDC Board appreciates the confidence the Borough Assembly has in our organization to address these very important issues. We will provide ongoing updates to the Assembly as we establish a strategy. This direction fits in very nicely with the current efforts to develop a tourism management plan, and previous recommendations made in the Petersburg Borough Comprehensive Plan.

ASSEMBY REQUEST: Encourage PEDC and the Chamber to develop a credible, focused plan to encourage new business, including non-fisheries related businesses.

As you likely know, the first steps in creating these plans is to focus our efforts on business opportunities and growth where there is a clear chance for success, and on the strengths of the community. Thanks to the Comprehensive Plan update, we do have a bit of a head start on at least identifying some of the key elements necessary to be successful. We should also acknowledge that adding jobs to existing businesses, non-profits, and government agencies are great examples of economic growth in smaller communities.

ASSEMBY REQUEST: Encourage PEDC and the Chamber to develop a marketing plan to let the "outside world" know about our high quality of life and welcoming business climate.

We need to understand what the Assembly's intent of "marketing our community" really is all about? Is it to bring new residents and grow the population? Is it to increase our visitor traffic, to help our existing businesses, to attract new business, or is it all the above? Community marketing is expensive and needs to be targeted toward specific audience to be at all effective. Secondly, the direction from the Assembly presumes Petersburg already has a "welcoming business climate". We believe any plan should also include specific steps to improve the business climate.

Lastly, there must be a clear consensus and support from the Assembly if PEDC (and the Chamber) are going to undertake development and implementation of these plans. By definition, economic development creates change and this change comes in varied forms, including more people visiting, new residents, and new competition to existing businesses.

The PEDC respectfully requests the Borough Assembly engage in an honest conversation to determine its support for economic development and the expected change it will bring to our community. With very limited staffing to develop and implement these plans, it is imperative we take a focused and deliberate approach with the Assembly as an active advocate and supporter of these efforts. Enclosed please find a general outline that PEDC could develop toward a more focused and actionable plan and a basis for your preliminary discussion if you so choose.

Sincerely,

PEDC Board of Directors
